OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Inconsistency of the Democracy — South Carolina and Louisiana—Appointments—Early Adjournment of the Senate—Etc., Etc.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16, 1877.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—The peculiarity most noticeable in the average Democrat is an inability to see anything good in what anybody else does. Having been for sixteen years without a platform or a principle, and existing as an organization only because of the dense ignorance and blind spirit of opposition which controlled the foreign voters who gave it cohesion, the Democratic party at last adopted a platform in 1876, almost identical with that of the Republicans. Defeated again, and the successful candidate proposing not only to carry out his and their promises but even to accept Democratic support in what he and they considered further reforms, they refuse to take any part with him in his work, but hold caucuses to devise means of opposition. It is evident that they do not so much devise the success of their principles, as the spoils that is an incident to the carrying of them into effect. Happily for President Hayes he belongs to a party strong enough and willing to support him in all proper efforts for national harmony, purity and prosperity, and if he can produce any new and still untried remedy for the evils that afflict us he will not need what Democrats so churlishly and inconsistently refuse.

Whatever others may have thought, the proposition to hold new elections in Louisiana and South Carolina, has had no general support among earnest Republicans here, and there was great relief felt when it was learned that no action on the subject was taken at the Cabinet meeting last night. The only reason given, so far as I know, why Chamberlain should not be supported is that some of the people of the State refuse to pay taxes to him or recognize him as Governor. If we apply such a rule as this to affairs in private life, we shall see how little of principle there can be in it. It is simply deserting the weak because they are weak, and turning the poor over to the rich for protection. There may be reasons for believing Hampton was elected and Chamberlain defeated, and that Nicolls was elected and Packard defeated, but there has been no official information to that effect laid before President Hayes. When all the facts are before him, he will no doubt give it careful consideration, together with all the surrounding circumstances, and act as appears proper to himself and those other statesmen who have given attention to the subject for [illegible] y ye[illegible]

President, so far, are good ones. If there are any exceptions I do not know them. Certainly the most prominent of them, Lot M. Morrill to be Collector of Customs at Portland, and of Fred Douglass to a lucrative and honorable position in this District, could hardly be improved upon. Mr. Douglass was tendered two or three smaller places by President Grant, but declined them.

The result of the New Hampshire election gives genuine satisfaction to all Republicans. If there was any Democratic hope of trouble in the party it will vanish in the light of this great victory. It is an assurance at once of confidence in President Hayes and the other leaders of the party in the Executive, in the Legislative, and in the laymen.

It is thought the Senate, if it does not adjourn this week, will do so by Monday or Tuesday. It has nothing to do but confirm or reject appointees of the President, and he has indicated that he will have sent in by Tuesday the names of all requiring action by the Senate.

A rumor was prevalent last evening and has been much talked of to-day, that immediately on the adjournment of the Senate, the President would order the troops from Louisiana and South Carolina. This is altogether unlikely, inasmuch as there can be no possible reason three or five days hence for such a course, which does not now exist.

Secretary Schurz has announced that he will make changes in the heads of several of the bureaus of his Department, and that as far as possible, he will urge for appointment to the vacancies those next to the dismissed officials. Such a course is in keeping—as far as the new appointments are concerned—with the former declaration of the Secretary.

LOGAN.

THE LOCAL PAPER.—It is a duty that every man owes to the community in which he lives, and to himself, to take his local paper first, then any other he may desire, and if he can afford it he should send it to his friends abroad and let them know week by week what he is doing. By this means the country becomes known abroad, the paper is passed from hand to hand, inquiry is stimulated and population attracted, and the subscription, like bread cast upon the waters, will return after many days with large increase. A good local paper is a better advertiser of a place than anything else; it not only conveys information itself, but it is quoted from by others, and thus the name of the town and county are kept continually before the public.

IT is an astounding fact that ninety-eight bridges have gone down under moving trains in the United States during the past four years. This shows that the American system of bridge building is defective, and human life anything but safe in a railway car. This business will have to stop if the Ashtabula coroner's jury knows its business, and we think it does.

POPULAR suffrage has been put to a singular test in a village of Awa, Japan. The neighborhood was harrassed by a midnight robber, whom nobody could detect. The head of the hamlet summoned the entire male population under his charge and directed every man to write the name of the person whom he suspected and deposit the ticket in a box. Fifteen ballots bore the name of Abe Eanihei, the rest being blanks. The man whom everybody distrusted was so overcome with astonishment that he made full confession and went to prison. Never before in the history of popular government was a thief elected with such unanimity.

NEARLY one half of the life insurance companies which have been organized in New York during the last forty years have gone out of existence. There were at one time forty-three in the State. There are only eighteen of these left. The new companies, or those organized since the war, have fared the worst, the greater part of them having disappeared.

GENERAL NOTES.

Governor Stanford is reported to have said that arrangements are contemplated for the construction of 140 miles of railroad east of the Colorado river, and that the work would be completed before the present year expires.

General Butler has announced his intention to be a candidate for the Speakership of the House during the next session of Congress. It is said he will run as an Independent, hoping thereby to get enough votes from different parties to secure his election, and that he is sanguine of success.

Postmaster General Key has just opened bids for furnishing of postal stamps for the next four years. The annual consumption is about 700,000,000, and is increasing. Two bids were opened, one firm bidding $9 95 per thousand, and another $9 98. Through competition the cost of stamps has been reduced about $5 per 1,000. One-ninth of all the stamps sold are disposed of in the New York postoffice.

Next week is Passion week, which is the close of the Lenten season. Saturday night, the 31st inst., closes the fast. Sunday, the first of April, is Easter Sunday, and is the first day of freedom for those who have, during 40 days of special religious exercises made themselves good.

RESIGNATION OF MINISTER WASHBURNE.

The following correspondence explains itself:

To the President:—In pursuance of a determination long since formed, to return home at the end of eight years service as Minister of the United States to France, I now have the honor to request that I may be recalled, to take effect immediately, or upon presentation of letters of credence of my successor, as may be most agreeable to you. In making known to you my desire in this regard, I beg leave to express to you my best wishes for the success of your Administration, for your own personal welfare, and for the peace, happiness and prosperity of our country. I have honor to be, very respectfully your obedient servant,

(Signed): E. B. WASHBURNE.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, March 23.—To E B Washburne—Sir: I have to acknowledge the receipt of your dispatch of the 23d instant, accompanied by the letter which you have addressed to the President, asking to be recalled as Minister to the United States to the French Republic. I am instructed by the President to say in reply that your request for recall will be granted and your resignation accepted, on the understanding that you will remain in your official position until your successor shall have been appointed and shall have presented his letter of credence. I am also instructed to add an expression of the President's appreciation of the faithful manner in which your official duties have been performed, and of services to your countrymen in France in a period of unusual embarrassment and difficulty—services which must ever remain on record as among the most important rendered by the diplomatic representatives of his Government. I am, sir, your obedient servant.

WILLIAM M. EVARTS.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The best impression to-day is that Oakey Hall's disappearance is connected with this Tweed affair, and that he has fled either because he had ascertained that Tweed's confession would compel him to appear as a witness against P. B. Sweeney or because Tweed's disclosure was likely to realize the former suspicions that Hall shared in the ring's plunder. It is known that Hall learned a week ago that Tweed had practically settled with the prosecution and given evidence that must compel Sweeny to settle or abscond, but Hall's spendthrift habits have left him nothing with which to make a settlement, and so it is believed he has gone to Europe. Tweed and Sweeny's property is beyond the Sheriff's reach, but it is understood that their friends hold title to much that can be realized with their consent for purposes of restitution. It is fair to remember that Hall defied the prosecution in 1871, but it is claimed that his share in the Tammany plunder was traced to him only since Woodruff's return and confession. Hall's daughter's betray no anxiety or distress regarding his disappearance.

THE STOREY COMPROMISE.

The proposition made by Mackay & Fair to advance Storey county sufficient money to enable a reduction of taxes for the present year has not been acted upon by the Board of Commissioners. In one sense of the word the proposition is a generous one; in another the conditions of its acceptance relieve it of half of its magnanimity. With the present depression in business all over the country it will be very bad for the people of Storey county to pay high taxes this year. They are taxed heavy enough under ordinary circumstances, but when an additional amount is put upon them, because corporations invoke the law to delay the payment of their proportion, it becomes a double hardship; hence if, by the acceptance of Mackay-Fair's proposition, some of this burden will be removed, we join in the wish for relief. But Mackay & Fair, out of their immense wealth, should be willing to come to the assistance of their poorer neighbors without exacting too many pounds of flesh. They will be benefitted equally with others; they save a tax of $1 50 on each $100 by the acceptance of their offer, and certainly they should ask no more. As a matter of right to the county which has done so much for them, as a matter of justice to themselves for being able to reap such a golden harvest from their labor, and in charity to the community whose welfare and prosperity they hold, as it were, in the hollow of their hand, these men should not appear in the role of Shylocks. Rather let them be ministering angels of Peace and Plenty, and thousands will rise up to call them blessed.

MINISTER WASHBURNE.

The retirement of Minister Washburne from the diplomatic service of the country is to be regretted. He is a man whom we delight to honor, and it is not saying too much in his praise when we state that the United States has been highly honored through the man who now asks to be recalled from such an important mission as France. During the eight years of his service not one word of complaint has been whispered against him; while showing no partiality he has yet made friends for his country, many of whom would sacrifice wealth, honor, and even life itself, that the favors extended to them through Washburne might be reciprocated. He now wishes to return to private life; but it will not be for long, and we should not be surprised if the people insisted upon his assuming the high station Hayes will one day vacate. Had Washburne been home last year and allowed his friends to use his name he would possibly be where Hayes now is. During the past few years the country has had three officers—an honor to any Government—Bristow; Fish and Washburne. No matter from what the cause, it is greatly to be deplored, when such men retire from the public service.

THE EXTENT OF THE CIVIL SERVICE.—It is calculated by the New York Times that there are in what is known to the public as the civil service about 53,000 offices. Of these, 3,000 are filled by the President and confirmed by the Senate. The remaining 50,000 fall to the heads of departments. It follows that when Cabinet officers announce that there will be no changes except for cause, the civil service reform so long demanded is for the most part accomplished. The subordinates, for whose benefit the rule is made, need no longer dread the yellow envelope of dismissal when some successful politician demands his place for one of his followers. The last Presidential campaign was mainly fought in their interest. The power which formerly preyed upon them has been turned out of office, while they are to be retained. Hayes is the Lincoln of this class. He has struck the chains from their limbs.

The Odd Fellows of Truckee are going to celebrate the 58th anniversary of the establishment of the Order in the United States, on Thursday the 26th of April. The celebration will be under the auspices of Naomi Rebekah Degree Lodge No. 2, and will consist of a procession, an oration by C. F. McGlashan, an original poem by Mrs. M. Greeley and a grand ball at night.

Carson Valley Farmers are busily engaged plowing and sowing. Considerable anxiety is felt on account of the prospective scarcity of water this coming summer.

TELEGRAPHIC MELANGE.

MOST IMPORTANT ITEMS IN YESTERDAY'S DISPATCHES.

The Cabinet in Session

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The Cabinet is in special session, considering the probable membership of the Louisiana commission, and determining certain foreign appointments.

Tweed to Go Free.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Times announces that no more suits against Tweed will be brought to trial. In a few days, probably Wednesday, Tweed will be released from custody. The negotiations which were inspired by the prisoner have been conducted by Charles O'Connor in behalf of the people and John D. Townsend for Tweed, and resulted in an agreement on Tweed's part to make all due amends in his power in the way of restoring property, etc. He represented himself a poor man, but offered to transfer his property and his interest in the claims against the city and private parties if the proceedings terminated. The proper deed and papers were drawn up and await the signatures. The whole amount (as stated) of property to be transferred will probably not exceed $250,000, and this is claimed is all that Tweed has. The claim against Woodward was settled in December for less than $150,000, and the claims against Garvey, Keyser and Ingersoll are as good as settled. Though Sweeney's trial is set for June, it is asserted positively that the case will be settled. Ex-Surrogate Hutchings, son-in-law of Connolley, has gone to Europe, it is believed, to procure some kind of a settlement in regard to him, including a settlement with the Watson estate. It is not considered likely that over million will be obtained by the people. It is stated that the fees of one of Tweed's lawyers were $100,000.

Horse Racing.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—The pools last night on the Rarus-Bodine race to come off at Oakland to-day, averaged about even, closing with Rarus the favorite at about 4 to 3.

Next Saturday Goldsmith Maid and Rarus will trot at San Jose for a purse of $2,000. One thousand is also offered as a speed premium in case the fastest time ever made in the State is beaten. Occident, at the State fair, a few years ago, made 2:16 ¼.

Political Notes.

CHICAGO, March 24.—The Journal's Washington special says: 'It is understood that the Democrats will complicate matters by sending to Louisiana a partisan commission, besides that sent by the Cabinet."

Secretary Schurz has conceived the idea of saving a vast amount of money by establishing an advertising bureau, to be part of the Treasury or some other department, which shall have sole charge of all Government advertising and save the expense of issuing proposals.

The Troops in the South.

NEW YORK, March 24.—A Washington special says the statement that the President never promised any one that he would remove the troops from Louisiana or South Carolina is confirmed so far as the word of the President is concerned. He informed a Western Senator that he had never said to any one that he would remove the troops from either State, and he added "I never authorized anybody to speak for me in that particular. I propose to do what is right in my best judgement, and I don't expect to please everybody."

Terrible Tragedy near Santa Paula.

SANTA PAULA, (Cal.) March 24.—T. Wallace Moore was brutally murdered last night at about half past 3 o'clock at his ranch house, 8 miles from here. The parties first set fire to his barn, which stood some fifty yards from the house. When Moore, together with three other men, were sleeping, a light from the burning barn awoke them, and they rushed out in their night-clothes for the purpose of letting loose the horses. Moore and his foreman entered the barn and cut loose all the horses, when they were fired upon by a body of five men, who rushed out from behind the house. Moore and Fergusin returned through the shed part of the barn and ran about one hundred yards where the assassins overpowered Moore and shot him down. One shot from a Spencer rifle hit him in the forehead and he was so near the muzzle that his face was very badly powder burnt. Several other shots took effect in the head and neck, four or five in the body, and one in the right leg. The parties, after finding that they had killed Moore, one of them said: "Come on, boys; let's leave here," and fled. Geo. Fergusin was shot in the forehead, but the ball only penetrating the skull, he will be all right in a few days. The barn containing twenty or thirty tons of hay, nearly a thousand sacks of wheat, harness and a lot of chickens, which were all consumed. None of the assassins were recognized, they all being masked. Great excitement prevails in this vicinity over the fearful tragedy. The remains will be taken to Santa Barbara to-morrow.

Ex-Mayor Hall's Disappearance.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The World persists that all the facts point that Hall was murdered in Brooklyn Friday night. It gives the name of the lady in the divorce suit in question, as Mrs. Ellen Davis Morgan, wife of Leonard Morgan. The World continues: "The engagement with Miss Dyas for the same evening, but Hall afterwards told Miss Dyas that he would be compelled to go to Brooklyn during the early part of the evening, and could not meet her until nine. That he did go to Brooklyn about 7 o'clock is almost absolutely certain; that he was probably made away with while in the dangerous locality he intended to visit, seems now altogether probable. Other journals including those of Brooklyn scout the idea.

Wells Destroyed by Fire.

The town of Wells, in the eastern part of the State, was yesterday entirely destroyed by fire, with the exception of Bell's store and the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph office. Hamill & Meiggs' place is a total loss. The railroad buildings were all destroyed. The fire originated in Mrs. Michell's hotel, and took everything at a clean sweep, despite the efforts of the inhabitants.

Serious Accident.

Yesterday while a number of men were rolling logs down the hill up at Mackay-Fair's, two men were caught, and one was killed outright, while the other, —— Barrett, was more frightened that injured. The unfortunate men were working some distance below another set of men who were rolling logs down at a wood camp known as Camp 12. The log was started to roll to one side of them, but in rolling changed its course, and came upon them with fearful speed, striking the deceased and knocking him a considerable distance down the hill. Barrett was nearly out of range, and so escaped death. The deceased was but little known, having been in the mountains but a short time. The coroner's jury will doubtless bring out the facts.

We are desired by Nels Barrett to correct a mistake made by our evening contemporary, which says that he was the Barrett injured. Inasmuch as he has not been in the hills for three weeks and looks sound and hearty, an apology is due him from the Gazette.

Wash and be Clean.

Frederick's bath-house, around on Commercial Row, has been completely refitted and furnished, and is now ready for all who may desire either a hot, cold, steam or electro-chemical bath. Every one who goes there will receive every attention, get a good cleaning up and be correspondingly healthy and happy. A liberal reduction is made when you buy a number of privileges to bathe. Read the ad.

Nevada State Mills.—The Nevada State Mills, at Reno, have recently been refitted in excellent style, and are now furnishing family flour of a superior quality. Ground barley, shorts, etc., constantly on hand and offered at bargains.

Sullivan vs. the Savage.—In the United States Circuit Court at Carson, the jury in the case of Sullivan vs. Savage Mining Company, came into Court at 10 o'clock Thursday night with a verdict for plaintiff for $5,000 damages.

A very readable letter from our Washington correspondent appears on our first page. "Logan" sees matters as they are, and presents them in an agreeably manner.

Special Paper.

The Journal of Commerce Company of San Francisco, whom I represent here, propose bringing out a special edition of their paper, to be called the Nevada Edition of the same. It will be in large form, with maps of the coast, Virginia city, also cuts of underground workings of mines, Sutro Tunnel, principal buildings, etc. The great desire in getting the paper up is to show the results of mining operations for the past three years, and to generally show the resources of Nevada.

Having resided so long in, and enjoying so many advantages as editor of the principal paper in Reno, I would feel very glad if you could supply me with any figures or information regarding your section of the country, which has of late attracted so much attention. If agreeable please insert this in your journal as information not getatable in any other way could be in this.

Knight's Ball.

Amity Lodge, No. 2, K. of P. will give a grand ball on the evening of April 10th. The Knights are noted for the elegant manner in which they conduct such affairs, and there is no question but that their coming party will be largely attended. The Knights will dress in full uniform.

Grand Jury.

Judge Wright came down yesterday and with the assistance of Commissioner Hymers drew the Grand Jury for the April term of Court. There is not a great deal of business to come before the next Grand Jury.

A gentleman who has occasion to go into many of the Reno dooryards, says that the accumulation of filth and corruption is simply appalling in some of them. Diseases are engendered and sickness increased by this dirty way of dumping everything in a dooryard. Besides it is not decent.

Chapin, the nurseryman, is doing a land office business just now. Orders are coming in almost too fast for him to fill them. Orders come from as far away as Battle Mountain. The advertisement in the Weekly Journal spreads the news of his choice trees far and wide—hence his prosperity.

Stocks were a little stronger yesterday. Maybe bottom has been touched. There is one consolation—the mines are looking fine, and they must sell on merit before long.

The town is pretty well supplied with plaids. That Sacramento man experienced no trouble in ridding himself of his entire stock.

Next Wednesday evening the ladies of the Methodist Church will give another social, at the residence of W. H. Moe, on Second street.

Under a new law school teachers will be compelled to go to the County Recorder's office for their salary warrants.

A few drops of rain—say one to the square inch—fell last evening. Hardly enough to swear by.

Fine weather still continues, and it begins to look as if Spring had really made her advent.

The owner of the stallion "Jack Nelson" has an advertisement in another column.

Religious Services.

Divine services will be held in the M. E. Church to-day, at 11 A. M. and at 7 P. M., also Sabbath school at 1½ P. M. Rev. T. S. Uren officiating.

Rev. E. Clark will preach at Glendale this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

At the Episcopal Church there will be divine service at 11 A. M. and 7½ P. M. to-day Rev. Wm. Lucas officiating. Sunday school immediately after morning service. All are cordially invited to attend.

Divine services to-day at the Congregational Church, both morning and evening, Rev. C. H. Pope officiating. Sunday School as usual.

Baptist services will be held at the Baptist Church this Sabbath morning and evening at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M., Rev. Mr. Arnold, pastor.

O. U. & C. V.

An Address to the Members by the Committe.

[Virginia Enterprise, March 24th.]

The following address to the members of the Order of the Union and Confederate Veterans was prepared by the committee for the purpose of calling the attention of their comrades to the necessity of being in attendance at the meeting of the Order, to be held at their headquarters this evening. As such and at the request of the committee we give it place:

Address to the O. U. and C. V.—Comrades: At our last meeting, the comrades who were then present passed a resolution empowering the Sir Commander to appoint a committee of three to address you on the part of the order, and to us, your committee, has been assigned that duty.

The Order of the Union and Confederate Veterans has been in existence since last "Memorial Day," on which occasion, the first on this coast, the survivors of the Union and Confederate armies in our midst buried past differences and joined as a common brotherhood to pay honor to the memory of the nation's heroes—our heroic dead. Since then we have met regularly twice a month; cultivated a feeling of fraternity, which we are sure will exist and grow, so long as there are those of us surviving who wore and battled under the uniform of the blue or the gray. The past ten months have been pregnant with events that were calculated to try the serenity of our purpose. The exceptional political contest through which we have just emerged has, like our battles, left us one and undivided, our honors untarnished, our country at peace and on the high road to prosperity. Feeling that all danger of a disruption of our common country as well as our order, no longer exists, and that we are now a stronger union in all that goes to strengthen the State, the Government, and the bonds that exist between us, we mingle our rejoicings—those of us from the land of the Palmetto with those from the land of the Pine—and congratulate the people of these United States on the happy result.

A new era in our country's, and in our own future, is fast approaching. Our full duty is not yet done. We, members of the Order of the Union and Confederate Veterans, have our work to finish, other duties to perform. Our order is as yet local; we must adopt means to spread it. From the surf-washed shores of the Pacific ocean to the waters of the Atlantic; from the pineries bordering the St. Lawrence to the palmetto groves skirting the Mexican Gulf must we be known and recognized. We must become a power whose conservative influence shall be felt, respected and honored. Active participants in our national history, it is for us to close the record with deeds that will add honor to ourselves and credit to our common country.

Again: Time in its flight will soon usher in the morn of Memorial Day. 'Tis then we are to perform a duty we owe our dead, joining in solid column the throng who go to do them honor. With our country's banner will we drape alike the graves of former friend and foe; with martial music enliven the breeze, bearing incense from the floral tribute with which we will garland their tombs. Then, when we have joined their last, long bivouac, to the future patriots of our country will be left the duty thus incumbered upon them by our example and observance.

Comrades, on Saturday evening, the 24th instant, we will hold our regular meeting, and will then take under consideration some proposed amendments to our constitution, which the growth of our order and past experience make necessary. And, in addition, some means will be devised to secure the co-operation of prominent soldiers, from both the North and South, to aid us in establishing a National Order and promulgating our principles throughout the land. We will also take steps aiming at the proper observance of Memorial Day. And now request the attendance of all comrades to aid and assist in our council. All those who served honorably in the Union and Confederate armies or navies are invited to visit us and urged to offer their names for membership.

STATE NEWS.

D. H. Haskell, railroad town-site agent, is laying out a new town at Lovelock's where the railroad company propose building a freight house and offices.

The mining dispute between the Richmond Company, of London, and the Eureka Consolidated of Nevada, is to be tried in San Francisco. Suit was brought some time ago by the Eureka Company against the Richmond alleging trespass on their mining rights. A compromise line was eventually agreed upon; but after a time the Eureka Company charged the Richmond with overstepping the boundary and with working some of their best ore. Hence the present suit, in which the sum of over $2,000,000 is involved. The matter came before the Courts in Carson City in the form of an injunction to restrain the Richmond. After a voluminous evidence had been given, a defect was found in the complaint, the Richmond mine, the property of English capitalists, being described as of Nevada instead of London. This threw the case into United States Courts, and will come up before Judge Sawyer in San Francisco on the first Monday in May.

Shortly after midnight Thursday Senator Sharon was serenaded by Ballehger's full band, the motive being his safe return from Washington. "Home Again" and other appropriate airs were played, which, in the stillness of the night, and reverberating through the many balconies, sounded sweetly and pleasantly. The Senator had retired to rest some time previously, and therefore did not appear.

Thus far on March account Consolidated Virginia has shipped bullion to the amount of $189,847, and California, and $803,263. The increased discount on fine Silver will make a material difference in the net receipts from these mines this month. The outturn of the Consolidated Virginia mine will fall far short of paying a dividend, and none is expected before May. The receipts from the California will probably be larger than for February, despite the detention in clearing drifts and strengthening supports.
